Lady Broncos Lose First Conference Game

The Lady Broncos started out the week on a good note. They took on the University of Sioux Falls which had not lost a conference game to that point in the season. The Lady Broncos didn't let that streak continue as they won 3-0. Hastings started quick as Sara Wenzl scored her first goal of the game in the 35th minute. Jesse Herse placed a nice through pass to Wenzl who finished off the goal. Wenzl was active again in the 77th minute. Jessica Carlson crossed the ball and Wenzl finished off her busy night for her second goal of the night and her 3rd and 4th goal of the season. Then Megan Michel scored a security goal for the Lady Broncos in the 88th minute with an assist from Herse, which was her second on the night and number 5 and 6 on the season. It was Michel's second goal on the season.

Three days later, the Lady Broncos travelled to Seward, NE to take on the Concordia Bulldogs. The Lady Broncos were down a man as Coach Flogaites was back home tending to the unfortunate passing of his father. The team dominated on the stat sheet as they out shot the Bulldogs 22-10 but unfortunately, they couldn't finish any of the shots. The Bulldogs were able to get two goals by the defense and won the game 2-0. It is the first conference loss of the season for the Lady Broncos. Currently, they sit in the middle of the pack in the conference behind Doane. The team still has 6 games remaining in conference play.

The Lady Broncos travel Saturday to Mount Marty, and then play Dana at home on Wednesday.
